PART 1: CURRENT TRENDS IN CHILD VICTIMIZATION RESEARCH

Chapter 1: Using New Crime Statistics to Understand Crimes Against Children—Child Pornography, Juvenile Prostitution, and Hate Crimes Against Youth

Importance of Statistical Data	1-2
The Uniform Crime Reporting System	1-2
The National Incident-Based Reporting System	1-3
Child Pornography	1-3
The Nature of Pornography	1-4
Child Pornography Data in the NIBRS	1-4
Child Pornography Patterns Found in NIBRS Data	1-5
Approximate Independence	1-6
Types of Pornography Incidents	1-6
Location of Offenses	1-7
Distribution	1-7
Identity of Offenders and Victims	1-7
Pornography and the Internet	1-7
What NIBRS Patterns Suggest About Child Pornography	1-9
Prostitution Involving Juveniles	1-10
Juvenile Prostitution in Context	1-10
Juvenile Prostitution Data in the NIBRS	1-11
Juveniles Identified as Perpetrators and Offenders	1-11
Juvenile Prostitution Patterns Found in NIBRS Data	1-12
Juvenile Offenders Compared to Adult Offenders	1-13
Where Incidents Occur	1-13
Characteristics of Juvenile Prostitution Incidents	1-13
Patterns in Prostitution Arrests	1-15
Juvenile Victim vs. Juvenile Offender Incidents	1-17
What NIBRS Patterns Suggest About Juvenile Prostitution	1-18
Hate Crimes With Juvenile Victims	1-20
The Hate Crimes Statistics Act	1-20
Juvenile Hate Crime Victimization Data in the NIBRS	1-22

Juvenile Hate Crime Victimization Patterns Found in
NIBRS Data	1-23
Racial/Ethnicity Hate Crimes Most Common	1-23
Age and Gender of Victims and Perpetrators	1-23
Identity of Perpetrators	1-24
Gang Involvement	1-25
Locales of Hate Crimes	1-25
What NIBRS Patterns Suggest About Juvenile Hate Crime
Victimizations	1-27
Conclusion	1-28

Chapter 2: Internet Sex Crimes Against Minors

Understanding a Newly Emerging Problem	2-1
What Law Enforcement Is Doing	2-2
New Survey Delineates Internet Sex Crimes	2-2
The N-JOV Study: Method	2-3
The N-JOV Study: Results	2-4
Arrest Estimate	2-4
Types of Internet Sex Crimes Against Minors	2-5
Internet Crimes With Identified Victims	2-5
Internet Solicitations to Undercover Law
Enforcement	2-6
Internet Child Pornography	2-6
Characteristics of Offenders and Offenses	2-7
The Nature of the Child Pornography Possessed by Offenders	2-8
Justice System Management of Cases	2-8
Multiple Law Enforcement Agencies Involved	2-8
Implications of Multijurisdictional Law Enforcement	2-13
Case Outcomes	2-13
Prosecutorial Obstacles	2-15
Discussion and Implications	2-15

Chapter 3: Children, Animal Abuse, and Family Violence—The Multiple Intersections of Animal Abuse, Child Victimization, and Domestic Violence

Introduction	3-2
The Intersections of Human and Animal Abuse	3-2
Defining Animal Abuse	3-4
Prevalence of Cruelty to Animals in Childhood and Adolescence	3-4
Data From Various Assessment Instruments	3-4
Limitations of Adult Reports on Children's Cruelty to
Animals	3-7

Childhood Animal Abuse and Later Violent Offending	3-9
Prior Animal Abuse in Convicted Offenders	3-9
Animal Abuse and Conduct Disorder	3-10
Patterns of Chronic Behavior	3-11
CD Subtypes and Related Disruptive Disorders	3-11
Cruelty to Animals as an Early CD Symptom	3-11
Motivations That May Underlie Animal Abuse	3-12
Animal Abuse by Adults	3-12
Developmentally Related Child and Adolescent Motivations	3-14
Animal Abuse Compared to Fire Setting	3-15
Motivation-Based Interventions for Youth	3-15
The Etiology of Animal Abuse	3-17
Corporal Punishment	3-17
Physical Abuse	3-18
Sexual Abuse	3-18
Sexually Abused Children	3-18
Bestiality	3-18
Domestic Violence	3-21
Overlap of Multiple Forms of Abuse	3-22
Policy Implications and Recommendations	3-23
Reporting	3-23
Assessment and Treatment	3-25
Training	3-26
Conclusion	3-26

Chapter 4: Child Maltreatment Fatalities—What Do We Know, What Have We Done, and Where Do We Go From Here?

Child Maltreatment Fatalities: Definition and Causes	4-2
Victim Demographics	4-3
How Many Children Die?	4-3
Who Are the Victims?	4-4
Age	4-4
Gender	4-4
Race	4-5
Summary	4-5
Who Does the Killing?	4-5
Relationship of Perpetrator to Victim	4-6
Perpetrator's Gender	4-6
Family Characteristics	4-6
Family Stressors	4-6
Socioeconomic Status	4-7

Parental Characteristics	4-7
Household Composition	4-7
Prior Contact With Social Services	4-8
Parental Relationship With Children	4-8
Responses to Fatal Maltreatment	4-8
Child Death Review Panels	4-8
Multidisciplinary, Multiagency Response	4-8
The Review Process	4-9
Investigative Trainings	4-10
Prevention Campaigns	4-10
Safe-Haven Laws	4-11
Child Abuse Death Laws and Prosecutions	4-11
Where Do We Go From Here?	4-12
Evaluation	4-13
Needed Improvements in Research	4-14
Needed Improvements in the Assessment of Families	4-15
Summary	4-15

Chapter 5: “Going to the Other Side”—An Analysis of Resilience Among Institutionalized Delinquent Youth

Introduction	5-2
Critical Factors in Resilience	5-3
Relationship of Maltreatment, Resilience, and Juvenile Crime	5-4
Growth of the Institutionalized Delinquent Population	5-4
Maltreatment Among Institutionalized Juveniles	5-6
Study of Delinquent Youth in Texas	5-6
Dependent Variables	5-7
Independent Variables	5-7
Individual Characteristics	5-8
Contextual Factors	5-8
Sample Characteristics	5-8
Study Results	5-10
Prevalence of Maltreatment in an Institutionalized Population	5-10
Maltreatment and Resilience	5-13
Discussion	5-14
Policy Implications	5-15
Future Research	5-15
Resilience	5-15
Desistance—Criminal Lapses and Relapses	5-16
Life-Course Research	5-16

PART 2: SEQUELAE OF CHILD VICTIMIZATION

Chapter 6: Child Victimization, Cognitive Functioning, and Academic Performance

Introduction	6-1
Overview: Child Victimization Experiences and Academic Functioning	6-2
Conventional Crimes	6-2
Child Maltreatment	6-2
Noncrime Victimization	6-3
Context of Victimization	6-3
Intrafamilial vs. Extrafamilial Perpetrators	6-3
Foster Care	6-4
Other Contextual Factors	6-4
Victimization and Attention Dysregulation	6-5
“Upregulation” of Attention to Trauma-Related Stimuli	6-5
“Downregulation” of Attention to Trauma-Related Stimuli	6-6
Dysregulation Consistent With ADHD	6-7
ADHD Symptoms and Trauma	6-8
Implications	6-9

Chapter 7: Childhood Traumatic Grief—Development, Epidemiology, Assessment, and Treatment

Introduction	7-2
Bereavement in Childhood	7-2
Childhood Posttraumatic Stress Disorder	7-3
Childhood Traumatic Grief	7-4
Triggers of Trauma Symptoms and Child’s Response	7-4
Clinical Features Associated With CTG	7-5
Epidemiology of CTG	7-6
Assessment of CTG	7-6
Traumatic Nature of the Death	7-6
The Presence of PTSD Symptoms	7-7
Impingement of PTSD Symptoms Upon Grieving	7-7
The Expanded Grief Inventory	7-7
Treatment of CTG	7-8
Addressing Trauma Reminders and Trauma Symptoms
Early in Treatment	7-8
With Preschoolers	7-8

With School-Age Children	7-9
With Adolescents	7-10
Grief-Focused Treatment Components	7-10
Interventions to Enhance Adaptive Functioning	7-11
Inclusion of Parents or Primary Caretakers in Treatment	7-12
Future Directions	7-13
Summary	7-13

Chapter 8: The Wide-Ranging Health Outcomes of Adverse Childhood Experiences

Introduction	8-1
Methodology of the ACE Study	8-3
Study Setting and Sample	8-3
Study Procedures	8-4
Assessment of Bias and Threats to Validity	8-4
Epidemiology of Adverse Childhood Experiences	8-5
Pathways to Poor Health	8-8
Substance Abuse	8-8
Sexual Risk Behaviors	8-8
Obesity	8-9
Long-Term Health Outcomes of Adverse Childhood Experiences	8-9
Reproductive Health and Unintended Pregnancy	8-9
Intimate Partner Violence	8-10
Health-Related Quality of Life	8-11
Suicidality	8-11
Mental Health Effects	8-11
Understanding the Linkage	8-12
Recommendations for Care	8-12

Chapter 9: Chronic Pain Syndromes as Sequelae of Childhood Abuse

The Challenges of Chronic Pain	9-2
Difficulties in Diagnosis	9-2
Comorbid Psychiatric Conditions in Pain Patients	9-3
Chronic Pain vs. Somatization	9-3
Complications for Treatment	9-4
Summary	9-4
Key Concepts in Trauma and Pain	9-4
Pain Threshold	9-4
Secondary Hyperalgesia	9-5

Central Sensitization	9-5
Chronic Pain Syndromes in Adult Survivors	9-5
Back Pain	9-5
Headaches	9-6
Pelvic Pain	9-6
Fibromyalgia Syndrome	9-7
The Pathophysiology of Fibromyalgia	9-8
Sleep Problems in Fibromyalgia	9-9
Irritable Bowel Syndrome	9-9
Psychodynamic Factors in IBS	9-11
Altered GI Physiology	9-11
Enteric Nervous System Theory	9-12
What We Know About Pain and Abuse	9-12
Co-Occurring Pain Syndromes	9-12
Commonalities of Pain Syndromes	9-13
Conclusions	9-13

Chapter 10: Maternal Depression and Adverse Parenting

Introduction	10-2
Depression	10-2
Impact on Child of Poor Parenting	10-2
Depression and Adverse Parenting	10-3
Chapter Objective	10-4
Maternal Depression and Child Maltreatment	10-4
Determinants of Parenting: The Fletcher Study	10-5
Parental Characteristics Associated With Maltreatment:
Sidebotham and Colleagues' Study	10-6
Understanding the Discrepancy in Findings	10-7
Maternal Depression and Adverse Parenting	10-7
Interactions of Depressed Mothers: Field and Colleagues'
Study	10-7
Depressed Mothers of Toddlers: Albright and Tamis-LeMonda
Study	10-8
Mothers With Depression or Bipolar Disorder:
Radke-Yarrow and Colleagues' Study	10-9
Depressed Mothers of 3-Year-Olds: Frankel and Harmon
Study	10-11
Low-Income Mothers of 6-Year-Olds: Harnish and Colleagues'
Study	10-12
Mothers With Depression, Bipolar Disorder, or Chronic Illness:
Hamilton and Colleagues' Study	10-12

Depressed Mothers of 19-Month-Olds: Stein and Colleagues’ Study	10-13
Depressed and Bipolar Mothers of Preschoolers: Kochanska and Colleagues’ Study	10-14
Summary of Findings	10-15
Maternal Depression and Child Maltreatment	10-15
Maternal Depression and Adverse Mother-Child Interactions	10-16
Implications for Clinicians	10-16

PART 3: PEER VICTIMIZATION

Chapter 11: Difficult Home Environments and the Development of Aggressive Victims of Bullying

Introduction	11-2
Defining the Aggressive Victim	11-2
Characteristics and Adjustment Problems	11-3
Self-Regulation in Aggressive Victims	11-4
Cross-Cultural Findings	11-5
Summary	11-6
Home Environment and the Development of Aggressive Victims	11-6
Impact of Family Violence	11-6
Emotion Regulation	11-6
Social Information Processing	11-7
Attachment	11-7
Genetic Influences Possibly Influential	11-8
Research on Home Environments of Aggressive Victims	11-8
Longitudinal Study	11-8
Cross-Sectional Studies	11-9
Home Environment and Other Subgroups of Aggressive or Victimized Children	11-10
Summary	11-10
The Protective Power of Friendship	11-11
Friendship as an Ameliorative Mechanism	11-11
Research Findings	11-12
Development Trajectory—Hypothetical Case Example	11-13
Conclusion	11-14

Chapter 12: Patterns of Risk Factors Leading to Victimization and Aggression in Children and Adolescents

Introduction	12-1
------------------------	------

Characteristics of Aggressors and Victims	12-2
Bullies	12-2
Victims	12-3
Proactive vs. Reactive Aggressors	12-4
School Shooters	12-5
Behavioral Inhibition as a Characteristic of Victim-Aggressors	12-6
Developmental Pathway to Aggression: The Interaction of Temperament and Environment	12-7
The Springfield Child Development Project Study	12-9
Sample Population	12-9
Interview Process	12-10
Measures and Data Analysis	12-12
Study Results: Antecedents of Aggression	12-14
Nonpredictive Variables	12-14
Negative Family Functioning and Harsh Discipline Key to Victim-Aggressor Pattern	12-15
Self-Esteem and Aggression	12-16
Summary of Results Shown in Three Case Studies	12-17
Conclusion: Factors in Producing Victim-Aggressors	12-18

Chapter 13: Peer Victimization Among Adolescents—A Preliminary Perspective on the Co-Occurrence of Sexual Harassment, Dating Violence, and Bullying Victimization

Introduction	13-2
Sexual Harassment	13-2
Prevalence Among Adolescents	13-2
Prevalence Differences by Youth Characteristics	13-3
Potential Correlates of Sexual Harassment Victimization	13-4
Dating Violence	13-4
Prevalence	13-5
Prevalence Differences by Youth Characteristics	13-5
Potential Correlates of Dating Violence Victimization	13-6
Bullying Victimization	13-6
Prevalence	13-6
Prevalence Differences by Youth Characteristics	13-7
Potential Correlates of Bullying Victimization	13-7
Multiple Victimization	13-8
An Evaluation of Multiple Forms of Peer Victimization: Research Summary	13-9
Prevalence	13-10
Correlates of Victimization Profiles	13-11

Areas for Further Research	13-11
Conclusion	13-12

Chapter 14: Juvenile Victims of Intimate Partner Violence

Adolescent Dating and Dating Violence	14-2
Addressing Juvenile Victimization	14-3
Sources of Data for Examining Juvenile Victimization	14-4
National Crime Victimization Survey	14-4
National Incident-Based Reporting System	14-5
Definitions	14-6
Analyses	14-6
Incidence of Juvenile Intimate Partner Victimization	14-7
Type of Juvenile Intimate Partner Victimization as Compared to Adult Victimization	14-8
Incident Characteristics	14-8
Age of Juvenile Victims and Their Intimate Partner Offenders	14-8
Time of Day	14-9
Setting	14-9
Relative Seriousness of Intimate Partner Victimization	14-9
Nature and Extent of Injury	14-9
Intimidation	14-10
Use of Weapons	14-10
Summary	14-10
Police Involvement	14-10
Juvenile Cases Less Likely to Be Reported	14-10
Arrests Less Likely When Victim a Juvenile	14-11
Implications of the Findings	14-12
Intimate Victimization a Small But Important Proportion of Assaults on Juveniles	14-12
Criminal Justice System Involvement	14-12
Policy and Practice Issues	14-13
Conclusion	14-14

Chapter 15: Psychosocial Consequences of Peer Victimization in Elementary and High School—An Examination of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder Symptomatology

Introduction	15-2
Theoretical Framework	15-2
Developmental Processes and Characteristics	15-2
Bullying as a Relationship Problem	15-3

Negative Psychosocial Consequences of Peer Victimization	15-3
Internalizing Difficulties	15-4
Child Suicide	15-4
Posttraumatic Stress Disorder	15-4
Characteristics of PTSD	15-5
Prevalence of PTSD in Children	15-5
Two Studies on PTSD as Outcome of Peer Victimization	15-6
Study 1: Peer Victimization and PTSD Symptomatology in
Elementary School	15-6
Study Population	15-6
Victimization Measures	15-7
PTSD Symptom Measures	15-7
Study Results Show Victimization-PTSD
Relationships	15-8
Victimization and PTSD Symptoms	15-10
Grade and Gender Differences	15-11
Victimization Over Time and PTSD Categories	15-11
Study 2: Peer Victimization and PTSD Symptomatology in
High School	15-12
Study Population and Measures	15-12
Study Results Show Differences in Victimization—
PTSD Relationships in Younger vs. Older Students	15-12
Impact of Victimization Stability	15-13
Discussion: Bullying, Age, and PTSD	15-14
Conclusion	15-15

Chapter 16: Bullying and Harassment in a Post-Columbine World

Introduction	16-1
Zero Tolerance: A Crime Against Children?	16-2
Elastic Definition of Bullying May Excuse Inexcusable
Behavior	16-3
Legal System's Responses	16-4
The Supreme Court's Davis Decision	16-4
Antibullying Laws	16-5
The Research Arena: Harassment or Bullying?	16-6
Problematic Denial or Distortion of Gender Issues	16-7
Naming the Real Problem as Gendered or Sexual Violence	16-9
Future Actions Needed at Both the School and Social Policy
Levels	16-11
Measures at the School Level	16-11
Action at the Social Policy Level	16-11

PART 4: INTERVENTION, PREVENTION, AND POLICY

Chapter 17: Prevention of Child Neglect—Toward a Community-Level Approach

Scope of the Problem	17-1
Definitions of Neglect	17-2
No Singular Clear-Cut, Standard Concept	17-2
An Evolving Definition	17-3
The Effect of Neglect on Children	17-4
Cognitive Development	17-4
Socioemotional Development	17-5
Ecological Model of Child Maltreatment	17-6
Causes, Consequences, and Mechanisms	17-7
Economic Poverty	17-7
Social Poverty	17-8
Social Capital	17-9
Defining Social Capital	17-9
Social Capital and the Well-Being of Children	17-11
Social Capital and the Prevention of Child Neglect	17-11
A Community-Level Approach to the Prevention of Child Neglect	17-12
Contextual Factors	17-12
Fostering Optimal Community Conditions	17-13
Home Visits	17-13
School Programs	17-13
Strong Communities Initiative	17-13
Conclusion	17-14

Chapter 18: Project SafeCare—Issues in Replicating an Ecobehavioral Model of Child Abuse Prevention

Introduction	18-2
Replication/Dissemination Issues	18-2
The Gap Between Research and Practice	18-2
Barriers to Broad Implementation (Scaling Up)	18-3
The Fidelity-Adaptation Debate	18-3
Implementation Data	18-4
Strategies to Improve the Quality of Implementation	18-6
Fostering Success	18-6
Multisystemic Therapy: An Example of a Successful Implementation	18-7
Factors in Choice of Project SafeCare for Oklahoma Statewide Trial	18-8
History of the Program	18-8

The Ecobehavioral Model and Project 12-Ways	18-9
Project SafeCare California: A Systematic Replication	18-10
Infant and Child Health	18-10
Home Safety and Cleanliness	18-10
Parent-Child Training	18-11
Common Elements of All Components	18-11
Intensive Provider Training	18-11
Outcomes	18-12
Evaluation of Project SafeCare in Oklahoma	18-12
Organizational Capacity	18-13
Acceptance and Feasibility of the Program; Participant Involvement	18-14
Reliance on Exceptional People	18-14
Training Processes and Supervision	18-15
Cultural Appropriateness	18-16
Fidelity/Adaptation Debate	18-16
Era of Litigation: Concerns Raised by Agencies	18-18
Lessons Learned—And Still to Be Learned	18-18

Chapter 19: The Social Information Processing Model of Child Physical Abuse: A Conceptual Basis for Prevention and Intervention Strategies

Introduction	19-2
SIP Model Focuses on Parental Cognitions	19-2
The Role of Automatic Information Processing in Abusive Behavior	19-3
Use of Priming in Assessing Automatic Processes	19-4
Supraliminal Priming	19-4
Subliminal Priming	19-5
Preexisting Schemata	19-5
Impact of Perceptions in Automatic Processing	19-6
Parental Interpretations of and Responses to Child's Behavior	19-7
Interpretation	19-7
Information Integration and Response Selection	19-9
Negative Affect—Information Processing Interplay and CPA Risk	19-10
Implications for Intervention	19-10
Increasing Positive Expectancies	19-11
Positive Expectancies Associated With Program Participation	19-11
Positive Expectancies for Parenting Outcomes	19-12
Positive Expectancies for Child Outcomes	19-13

Increasing Metacognitive Awareness	19-13
Managing Attentional Focus	19-14
Summary	19-16

Chapter 20: Foster Care as an Intervention for Abused and Neglected Children

Introduction	20-2
Facts About Foster Care	20-3
Number of Children in Out-of-Home Care	20-3
Characteristics of the Children	20-3
Length of Stay	20-4
Reunification and Reentry	20-4
The Functional Well-Being of Children in Foster Care	20-5
Health Problems Among Youth Placed in Foster Care	20-5
Physical Health Problems	20-5
Developmental Problems	20-6
Mental Health Problems	20-6
Service Utilization Among Youth Placed in Foster Care	20-7
Rates of Service Utilization	20-7
Barriers to Service Utilization	20-7
Factors Influencing Service Utilization	20-8
Risk Behaviors Among Youth Placed in Foster Care	20-8
Risky Sexual Behavior	20-9
Delinquency	20-9
Substance Use	20-9
Self-Destructive Behaviors	20-10
Outcomes for Young Adults Who Have Emancipated From Foster Care	20-11
Educational Outcomes	20-12
Employment, Finances, and Use of Public Assistance	20-12
Living Arrangements	20-12
Mental, Physical, and Reproductive Health Status	20-12
Substance Use and Criminal History	20-13
Summary of Young Adult Outcomes	20-13
Evaluating Foster Care as an Intervention for Child Abuse and Neglect	20-14
Maltreated Children Who Enter Foster Care vs. Those Who Remain at Home	20-14
Children Who Reunify vs. Children Who Remain in Foster Care	20-15
Methodological Issues in Foster Care Research	20-17

What Do the Children Say?	20-18
Conclusions	20-20

Chapter 21: Safety of Children Involved With Child Welfare Services

The Safety of Children Receiving Child Welfare Services	21-1
Re-Reports of Maltreatment	21-2
Factors Related to Re-Reports	21-3
Re-Report Data Important but Limited	21-4
National Survey of Child and Adolescent Well-Being	21-4
Prior CWS Involvement Among Families in the NSCAW Study	21-5
Children/Family Characteristics	21-6
Evidence of Repeated CWS Involvement	21-8
Implications for Practice	21-9
Children's Reports of Violence by Caregivers Using the CTS-PC	21-9
Type of Abuse	21-10
Ethnic Group/Racial Differences	21-10
Predictors of Physical Assault	21-11
Children's Experiences of Violence	21-13
Frequency of Exposure	21-13
Recent Violence Exposure	21-14
Critical Policy/Practice Implications	21-16
Injuries Among Children Involved With Child Welfare	21-18
Conclusions and Recommendations	21-21
Chronic Maltreatment and Ongoing Risk Common	21-21
Comprehensive, Accessible Records Essential	21-22
More Assessment and Monitoring Needed	21-22
Better Access to Health Care and Intervention Services Needed	21-23

Chapter 22: Children's Advocacy Centers—Understanding the Impact of a Phenomenon

Introduction	22-2
The CAC Approach	22-3
Multidisciplinary Team	22-3
Child-Friendly Facility	22-4
Coordinated Forensic Interviews	22-4
Medical Evaluation	22-5
Case Review	22-6
Therapeutic Intervention	22-6
Victim/Support Advocacy	22-7
Case Tracking	22-7
Cultural Awareness	22-8

National Development and Organization of CACs	22-8
Different CAC Models	22-10
Adaptation to Community Characteristics	22-10
Location of CAC and Case Referral Process	22-10
Relationships Among Participating Agencies	22-11
Variation in Objectives and Outcomes	22-11
How CACs May Benefit the Community	22-12
Higher-Quality Service	22-12
Cost Savings	22-13
Better Collaboration	22-13
Better Investigation	22-13
Improved Accountability and Data Management	22-14
Research and Program Evaluation	22-14
Future Directions for Children’s Advocacy Centers	22-15
Which Cases Should Be Referred?	22-16
Capacity Concerns	22-17
Expanding Domains of Service	22-17
Special Populations and Communities	22-18
Case Tracking, Program Evaluation, and Research	22-19
Community Relationships	22-21
Conclusion	22-21

Chapter 23: Making a Difference—Critical Factors in the Development of Federal Policies for Child Victimization

Introduction	23-2
Role of Professionals, Child Advocates, and Researchers in
Policy Setting	23-2
Need for Active Involvement	23-2
Role of the Executive and Judicial Branches	23-3
Federal Child Maltreatment Legislation	23-4
Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act	23-4
Title IV of the Social Security Act	23-6
