

Table of Contents

About the Authors	v
Introduction	xi

PART I: STALKING PREVALENCE AND JUSTICE SYSTEM RESPONSES

Chapter 1: Prevalence and Characteristics of Stalking

Introduction	1-2
Criminalization of Stalking	1-2
Initial Lack of Information on Parameters of Stalking	1-3
The National Violence Against Women Survey	1-4
How the Survey Was Conducted	1-4
How Stalking Was Measured	1-4
The Direct Question Method	1-5
The Screen Question—Follow-up Report Design	1-6
Reference Period	1-7
Correlates and Consequences of Victimization	1-8
How Stalking Was Defined	1-8
Extent of Stalking Among Men and Women in the United States	1-9
Stalking Estimates Using a Less Stringent Definition of Stalking	1-10
Stalking Estimates When Victims Self-Define as Stalking Victims	1-10
The Nature of Stalking Incidents	1-10
Frequency of Stalkers Overtly Threatening Their Victims	1-11
Victim-Perpetrator Relationship	1-11
Characteristics of Stalking Victims	1-12
Gender	1-12
Age	1-13
Race	1-13
More Recent Research	1-14
College Populations	1-14
Divergence Between Victim's and Legal System's Definitions of Stalking	1-14
Conclusions	1-15
Early Estimates Understated Extent of Problem	1-15

Methodological Implications of NVAWS Results	1-16
Statutes Requiring Overt Threats of Violence Ill Advised	1-16
Chapter 2: Stalking Legislation in the United States
History of Stalking Laws	2-2
Prevalence of the Stalking Problem	2-3
Stalking Defined—Lay Versus Legal Definitions	2-5
A Lay Person’s Definition—Stalking in Common
Parlance	2-6
Legal Definition of Stalking	2-7
Provisions of State Stalking Statutes	2-8
Proscribed Acts	2-8
Threat—Credible or Otherwise	2-8
Problems With Requirement for “Explicit”
Threat	2-8
Broader Standard Allows Implicit Threats	2-9
Fear as an Element of Stalking	2-10
Stalker’s Intent	2-12
Constitutional Challenges to Stalking Statutes	2-13
“Void for Vagueness” Challenges	2-13
Overbreadth Challenges	2-14
Freedom to Travel/Freedom of Movement	2-15
Double Jeopardy	2-15
Evidentiary and Procedural Challenges	2-15
Special Provisions of State Stalking Laws	2-16
Warrantless Arrest	2-16
Address Confidentiality	2-16
Victim Notification	2-16
Referral to Victim Services and Assistance	2-16
Training for Criminal Justice Officials	2-16
Sentencing/Classes of Stalking Crimes	2-17
Sentences by Class	2-17
Sentencing Enhancements	2-17
Special Sentencing Provisions	2-18
Protective Orders in the Civil System	2-18
Related Crimes	2-19
Legislative Trends	2-19
Stalking-Specific Protective Orders	2-19
Confidentiality	2-20
Cybercrimes and Stalking on the Internet	2-20
Other Legislative Innovations	2-20

Federal Stalking Law 2-21
 Conclusion 2-21

Chapter 3: The Criminal Justice System’s Response to Stalking

Introduction 3-1
 Legal Help-Seeking by Crime Victims 3-2
 Extra-Legal Approaches Taken by Stalking Victims 3-3
 Police Response to Stalking 3-4
 Decision to Arrest 3-4
 Effects of Police Action 3-4
 Stalking Victims’ Satisfaction With Police 3-5
 Orders of Protection 3-6
 Filing of Charges and Prosecution of Stalking 3-8
 Recommendations for Improving System Responsiveness 3-9
 Police/Law Enforcement 3-10
 Police and Protection Orders 3-11
 Judicial Training Regarding Restraining Orders and Stalking . . . 3-12
 Other Issues Involved in Protective Orders 3-12
 Prosecutors 3-13
 Judges and Sentencing 3-13
 Legal Advocacy 3-14
 Communicating With Victims 3-15
 Cooperation and Coordination Among Programs 3-16

Chapter 4: Civil Legal Options for Victims of Stalking

Introduction 4-1
 Types of Protection Orders Available 4-2
 Domestic Violence Protection Orders 4-2
 Stalking Protection Orders 4-3
 Violence Against Women Act 4-5
 Effectiveness of Civil Protection Orders 4-6
 Advantages and Disadvantages of Civil Protection Orders 4-6
 Procedure to Obtain a Civil Protective Order 4-10
 Petitioning the Court 4-10
 Review of the Petition by the Judge 4-11
 Ex Parte Hearing 4-11
 Victim Advocacy Programs 4-11
 Order Served on the Stalker 4-11
 Contest Hearing 4-12
 Domestic Violence and Stalking Torts 4-12
 Conclusion 4-15

Chapter 5: Stalking Controversies and Emerging Issues

Introduction	5-1
Classification and Treatment of Stalkers	5-2
Classification of Stalkers	5-2
Methods of Stalkers	5-3
Choice of Victim	5-3
Stalker–Victim Relationship	5-4
Psychopathic or Psychotic Stalker	5-5
Treatment and Safety Issues	5-5
Safety of Children	5-5
Mental Health System	5-7
Definition of the Intent–Threat Component	5-8
Legislation	5-9
Intent	5-9
Predictability	5-10
The Use of Proxy Measures in Research	5-10
False Victimization	5-12
False Accusations by the Stalker	5-12
Other False Victimization Accusations	5-13
Assessment, Treatment, and Not Endangering Others	5-14
Cyberstalking and Other New Technologies	5-15
The Internet	5-15
Cyberstalking	5-16
Training	5-18
Legislation	5-18
Identity Theft	5-19
Telephone Chat Rooms	5-20
Conclusion	5-21

PART II: PSYCHOLOGICAL ISSUES, RISK ASSESSMENT, AND INTERVENTIONS

Chapter 6: Classification of Stalkers

Introduction	6-1
Historical Classification of Stalkers	6-2
Three Main Groups of Stalkers	6-2
Features of Stalkers	6-3
Psychiatric Approach to Classification	6-3
Stalkers’ Relationships With Victims	6-4
Motivations of Stalkers	6-5

Mental Status of Stalkers	6-5
Nonpsychotic vs. Psychotic Stalkers	6-5
Relationship Between Violence and Stalking	6-6
Law Enforcement Perspectives	6-6
Investigation and Management of Stalkers	6-7
Stalking as a Corollary of Domestic Violence	6-8
Types of Stalkers	6-8
Description of Stalkers	6-9
Psychiatric Status of Stalker	6-9
Motivation and Context of Stalking	6-10
The Rejected Stalker	6-10
The Intimacy Seeker	6-12
The Resentful Stalker	6-14
The Incompetent Suitor	6-16
The Predatory Stalker	6-18
Conclusion	6-19

Chapter 7: Clinical Management of Stalkers and Stalking Behaviors

Introduction: From Rudeness to Stalking	7-1
The Role of Mental Health Professionals	7-3
Managing the Stalker's Psychopathology	7-4
Erotomantic and Other Delusions	7-4
Mania	7-5
Obsessive Behavior	7-6
Depressive Disorders	7-7
Personality Disorders	7-7
Targeting Therapeutic Approach to Specific Personality Traits	7-7
Impact of Co-Occurring Substance Abuse	7-8
Confronting Stalking Behavior	7-8
Determine What Really Happened	7-8
Address the Function of Stalking for the Stalker	7-9
Rejected Stalkers	7-9
Intimacy Seekers	7-10
Incompetent Suitors	7-10
Resentful Stalkers	7-11
Predatory Stalkers	7-12
The Social and Interpersonal Context of Stalking	7-12
Confront Stalker's Social Assumptions	7-12
Work on Social Skills	7-13

The Context of Clinical Management	7-13
Conclusion	7-14

Chapter 8: After the Breakup: Relationship Factors Associated With Intimate Relationship Stalking

Introduction	8-1
Legal Definition of Stalking	8-2
Victim–Stalker Relationship	8-2
Prevention of Intimate Relationship Stalking	8-2
The Dating Relationship	8-3
Stalking After the Breakup	8-3
Empirical Data on Breakup Stalking	8-4
Assessment of Stalking	8-4
Assessment of Relationship Dynamics	8-5
Police Involvement in Breakup Stalking	8-8
Stalking and Psychological Abuse	8-8
Jealousy and Stalking	8-8
Infidelity and Stalking	8-9
Model of Infidelity and Jealousy	8-9
Reconciling and Breaking Up	8-10
Model for Post-Dissolution Stalking	8-11
Mental Health Counseling	8-11
Education on Dating for Adolescents	8-11

Chapter 9: Children and Stalking

Introduction	9-2
Prevalence and Incidence of Stalking	9-2
Stalking of Children	9-2
Stalking of Adolescents	9-3
Dating Violence	9-4
Bullying	9-4
Comparison of Youthful Stalking to Adult Stalking	9-5
Children and Adolescent Stalkers Separate From Adults	9-7
Pursuit Behaviors	9-8
Bullying	9-8
Theories of Stalking	9-9
Children and Batterers	9-9
Traumatic Bond Theory	9-10
Object Relations Theory	9-10

Social Learning and Family Systems Theories	9-11
Social Learning Theory	9-11
Children as Secondary Victims in Adult Cases	9-12
The Impact of Stalking on Young Victims	9-13
Protection From Bullies	9-13
Powerlessness	9-13
Former Boyfriend/Girlfriend	9-14
Responding to Young Victims and Stalkers	9-15
Communication	9-15
Prevention	9-15
Safety	9-16
Needs of Victim and Stalker	9-16
Effects of Stalking by Gender	9-17
Mental Health Assessment	9-17
School-Wide Prevention Programs	9-18
Counseling	9-18
Legal Response to Stalking of Children	9-18
Child-Related Issues in Stalking Cases of One Parent by Another	9-19
Long-Term Connection With Stalker	9-19
Child Support	9-19
Child Visitation and Custody	9-20
Safety of Battered Women and Children	9-21
Conclusion	9-22

Chapter 10: Crisis Intervention for Victims in Stalking Cases

Introduction	10-1
Overview of Stalking	10-2
Definitions of Stalking	10-2
Legal Definitions	10-2
Clinical Definitions	10-3
Prevalence and Incidence	10-3
Characteristics of Stalking	10-4
Impacts of Stalking Victimization	10-5
Theory and Principles of Crisis Intervention	10-6
Crisis Intervention Model	10-7
Stage 1: Assessing Lethality	10-8
Stage 2: Establishing Rapport and Communication	10-9
Stage 3: Identifying the Major Problems	10-10
Stage 4: Dealing With Feelings and Providing Support	10-10
Stage 5: Exploring Possible Alternatives	10-11

Stage 6: Formulating an Action Plan	10-12
Stage 7: Follow-Up Measures	10-12
Case Application of the Model	10-13
Stage 1: Assessing Safety and Lethality Risks	10-14
Stage 2: Establishing a Rapport	10-15
Stage 3: Identifying Treatment Issues	10-15
Stage 4: Initiating Legal Protection	10-15
Stage 5: Staying at the Shelter	10-15
Stage 6: Developing a Safety Plan	10-15
Stage 7: Continuing Advocacy and Support	10-16

Chapter 11: Responding to the Psychological Impact of Stalking

Victimization

Introduction	11-2
Definitional and Conceptual Issues	11-2
Stalking and Intimate Partner Abuse	11-4
Literature Addressing the Stalking Relationship Abuse
Nexus	11-5
College Student Samples	11-5
Perpetrator Typology and Risk Assessment
Research	11-5
Research with Self-Identified Victims of
Relationship Violence	11-6
Epidemiological Research	11-7
Coercive Control	11-7
Stalking and the Risk of Physical Violence	11-8
Psychological Impact of Stalking Victimization	11-9
Posttraumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD)	11-9
Symptoms of PTSD	11-9
Risk Factors for PTSD	11-10
Assessment of PTSD	11-10
Prediction of PTSD	11-11
Response to PTSD	11-11
Depression	11-12
Substance Use	11-12
Clinical and Threat Management Approaches	11-13
Treatment of PTSD	11-13
Clinical Intervention of PTSD	11-13
Creation of a Safety Plan	11-14
Risk Assessment Methods	11-15

Supportive Treatment 11-15
 Education 11-15
 Peer and Family Support 11-16
 Stress Management 11-16
 Stress Inoculation Training 11-17
 Cognitive-Behavior Therapy 11-17
 Conclusion 11-17

Chapter 12: When Stalking Turns Violent: Developments in the Assessment of Stalking Risks

Introduction 12-1
 The Scope of the Problem 12-2
 The Relationship Between Threats and Violence 12-3
 Mental Disorders and Violence 12-7
 Victim-Stalker Relationship 12-11
 Prior Criminal Convictions 12-13
 Other Risk Factors 12-14
 Preliminary Conclusions 12-15
 From the Research Laboratory to Clinical Practice 12-17

Chapter 13: Addressing Stalking at Work: What Women and Advocates Can Do

Introduction 13-2
 Stalking Defined 13-2
 Stalking in the Workplace 13-3
 Prevalence 13-3
 Negative Impact 13-3
 Identifying Stalking at Work 13-4
 Steps to Consider 13-5
 Safety Plan 13-5
 Safety at Workplace 13-5
 Addressing Special Problems of a Co-Worker
 Stalker 13-5
 Safety Away From Workplace 13-6
 Protective Order 13-7
 Actions the Employer Should Undertake 13-7
 Ensuring Awareness 13-7
 Creating a Welcoming Environment for Victims 13-8
 Obtaining a “No Trespass” Order 13-9
 Helping Make Employees Safe 13-9

Remedies Against the Employer 13-11
 Workers' Compensation 13-11
 Intentional Tort Claims 13-11
 Negligent Security 13-12
 Vicarious Liability 13-12
 Negligent Failure to Warn; Negligent Hiring 13-13
 Antidiscrimination Law 13-13
 Wrongful Discharge 13-15
Other Relief Available to Victims 13-16
Conclusion 13-17

Appendix A: Bibliography A-1

Index I-1